Don't miss out on attending the renowned Annual ASQ Audit Conference

Join us for the 25th Annual Quality Audit Conference, sponsored by the ASQ Quality Audit Division at the world renowned Peabody Hotel, in Memphis Tennessee, the home of Elvis Presley.

“New Horizons in Auditing: Controlling Risk to Improve Performance, Processes, and Systems”

Conference Overview:

Technological innovation matched with innovative auditing approaches and techniques, significant changes in evolving standards, new foundations and new synergies between disciplines—all present New Horizons for the quality professional of the 21st century.

With these new horizons, come new challenges and opportunities for auditing. This conference focuses on the auditor's role in identifying quality issues to improve performance, processes and systems, and controlling risk specific to new horizons in auditing

The conference program includes four tracks for assisting auditors to help unlock their potential. These are:

1. Innovation and auditing new technological advances
2. Changing Standards (e.g. ISO 9001:2015)
3. New foundations in Quality and the tools that go with them: applying current Quality tools to new domains; applying new Quality tools to new and existing domains
4. Synergies and Serendipities: merging existing strategies, tools and techniques to create and discover something new and powerful
